

RURAL AREA FLEXIBILITY ANALYSIS

1. Types and estimated number of rural areas

Social services districts, the St. Regis Mohawk Tribe and voluntary authorized agencies that have contracts with social services districts to provide foster care will be affected by the regulations. There are 44 social services districts and the St. Regis Mohawk Tribe that are in rural areas. Currently, there are also approximately 100 voluntary authorized agencies in rural areas of New York State.

2. Reporting, recordkeeping and other compliance requirements; and professional services

The regulations implement standards required by the federal Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008 (P.L. 110-351) that went into effect on October 7, 2008. Implementation of the regulations is necessary for the State of New York to maintain compliant Title IV-B and Title IV-E State Plans which are required for New York to continue to receive federal funding under Title IV-B and Title IV-E of the Social Security Act for foster care, adoption assistance, child welfare services and the administration of those programs.

The regulations require that within 30 days of the removal of a foster child from his or her home, the social services district must exercise due diligence in identifying and notifying relatives of the child, including all grandparents and other relatives identified by the child's parents, that the child was removed, the option available to the relative to become the child's foster parent or to otherwise care for the child and any options that may be lost by the failure of the relative to respond to such notification in a timely manner. Notification must be made earlier than 30 days of removal if directed by the court. Notification is not required in regard to relatives with a history of family or domestic violence.

The regulations require the authorized agency with case management responsibility to develop a transition plan for a foster child who is aging out of foster care. Such plan must be personalized to the particular foster child and developed with the involvement of such child. Development of the transition plan must commence 180 days prior to the scheduled discharge date of the foster child, with the completion of the plan 90 days prior to the scheduled discharge. The transition plan must address housing, health insurance, education, local opportunities for mentors and continuing support services and work force supports and employment services.

The regulations set forth standards social services districts must satisfy in relation to the educational stability of children when they are removed from their homes and placed into foster care. The regulations address the need to assess the proximity of foster care placements to the school the child attended at the time of removal and the appropriateness of the child remaining in that school after entering foster care. Where the foster child can not remain in the same school, the agency with case management responsibility must coordinate with local school officials in order that the foster child be provided with immediate and appropriate enrollment in a new school.

The regulations require that foster children of school age must either be enrolled in an appropriate educational setting, unless incapable of attending school, or have completed secondary education. The proposed regulations would impose a similar requirement post discharge from foster care in regard to a school age child who is in receipt of an adoption subsidy.

3. Costs

Each of the regulatory amendments is required by the federal Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008. There is no fiscal impact associated with implementing the regulations because current OCFS regulations require social services districts to carry out similar functions as those prescribed in these amendments. With the exception of the regulatory amendment associated with the transition plan, the regulatory changes are federally mandated under Title IV-E of the Social Security Act. Currently, New York must demonstrate that it has implemented these requirements in order to have a compliant Title IV-E State Plan. This is a condition for continuing to receive federal funds for foster care, adoption assistance and the administration of these programs.

The regulatory change regarding the transition plan for children who are aging out of foster care is a federal mandate under Title IV-B, Subpart 1 of the Social Security Act. In order to have a compliant Title IV-B State Plan, and to continue to receive federal Child Welfare Services funding, New York State must demonstrate that it has implemented such standard.

There is no fiscal impact associated with the regulatory amendment to 18 NYCRR 421.24(c)(19). Currently, the New York City Administration for Children's Services notifies adoptive parents to verify that they are continuing to support their adoptive children and continue to be legally responsible for the support of their adoptive children. Acceptable documentation includes proof of school attendance. Documentation provided by the adoptive parent can be maintained by the social services district in the adoption subsidy case file. The regulatory amendments do not require any modification to CONNECTIONS. The requirements associated with documenting information in the child's uniform case record progress notes can be supported in CONNECTIONS.

4. Minimizing adverse impact

The regulations require the recording of the actions taken to comply with the regulatory standards noted above. Such information will be recorded in New York State's statewide automated child welfare information system, CONNECTIONS.

5. Rural area participation

By letter dated, December 5, 2008, OCFS informed the commissioner of each local department of social services in the State of New York of the amendments to OCFS regulations necessitated by the federal Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008. The letter included a brief summary of the new regulatory requirements. In addition, it informed local commissioners of the requirements enacted by the federal legislation that are already in effect in New York and that will not require any further regulatory amendments. OCFS advised the local commissioners that OCFS will provide any clarification received from the federal Department of Health and Human Services on these requirements. A copy of the regulations was provided along with a contact person if the local commissioners or their staff had any questions.
