Introduction

The New York State Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS) oversees a continuum of services for children, families, and communities, and promotes the safety, permanency, and well-being of children and families. The agency continually seeks to improve and integrate efforts to address the needs and build on the strengths of the state’s children, youth, and other vulnerable populations. It works to establish a more responsive, seamless service delivery system that is family-centered, outcome-based, and locally responsive.

OCFS’s oversight and operational responsibilities include: foster care, adoption, child protective services, preventive services for children and families, child care, child care resource and referral programs, child care subsidies, rehabilitation services for the blind, and protective programs for vulnerable adults. In addition, the agency coordinates state government response to the needs of Native Americans on reservations and in communities, and administers specialized programs for juvenile delinquents remanded to the care of OCFS by the family courts and juvenile offenders committed by the criminal courts.

The reports compiled herein, required under state Social Services Law, help provide a snapshot of how the system is performing in key areas.
Administrative Hearings

Pursuant to the Social Services Law (SSL), applicants for or recipients of government-subsidized foster care services, day care services, homemaker services, and other child care services may appeal decisions of social services officials to deny or limit such payments to OCFS. Local social services officials determine eligibility for and the level of payment provided for such services, and must advise individuals of their opportunity to challenge a local determination in an administrative hearing.

Individuals also have the right to an administrative hearing, conducted by OCFS, to challenge a variety of other governmental determinations. Such determinations include, among others, decisions to remove publicly funded foster children from foster homes; the listing of a person in the Statewide Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment (SCR) as a perpetrator of child abuse or maltreatment; the proposed disclosure of the existence of such listing to an inquiring provider or licensing agency; the decision to deny, revoke, suspend or otherwise limit a license or registration to provide day care for children; denials of applications to adopt children and for adoption subsidies; decisions of the New York State Commission for the Blind (NYSCB) to deny or limit services or participation to its consumers; and decisions to deny, suspend, revoke or otherwise limit an operating certificate to provide care for aged and infirm adults in family settings.

Administrative hearings help to protect children, preserve families, and promote the accuracy of decisions from local social services districts and the state.

Time Period 1/1/2016 – 12/31/2016

NOTE: The total number of hearings held in the tables below is often significantly lower than the number of hearings scheduled, and significantly lower than the number of decisions issued due to the fact that many scheduled hearings are resolved short of a full hearing, such as by default, settlement, and party withdrawal.

Child Care - Hearings held pursuant to Section 22 of the SSL and Parts 358 and 415 of the Social Services regulations to challenge determinations by social services districts to deny, reduce or terminate child day care subsidy payments, or to challenge the adequacy of such payments.

Court Challenges to OCFS Administrative Hearings

If an individual has appealed a determination and is dissatisfied with the decision of an administrative law judge, the individual may challenge the decision in a court proceeding. The following represents the activity for such challenges for 2016.

- Total Number of Cases Appealed: 31
- Number of Favorable Decisions: 10
- Number of Unfavorable Decisions: 0
- Number Pursued Not Pending: 10
- Number Pursued Pending: 21
New York State Commission for the Blind

The mission of the New York State Commission for the Blind (NYSCB) is to enhance employability, maximize independence, and assist in the development of the capacities and strengths of people who are legally blind.

NYSCB values the worth, dignity, and rights of people who are blind. It seeks to encourage, empower, and enable individuals to live independently, pursue meaningful employment, and enjoy full inclusion and integration into the cultural, economic, educational, political, and social mainstream of society. The active participation of consumers in their own rehabilitation programs, including the ability to make meaningful and informed choices regarding their vocational goals and the rehabilitation services they receive, is a fundamental principle of all NYSCB programs, projects, and policies.

NYSCB is committed to working closely with children and their families to enable each child to achieve the maximum possible independence in working, living, and participating as an adult. NYSCB seeks to incorporate interactive teamwork in providing vocational rehabilitation services that meet the needs of consumers.

The NYSCB team is comprised of staff (many of whom are legally blind); community-based service providers; and current and potential employers, all of whom share in the rewards of consumer employment and satisfaction. NYSCB carries out its mission through four major program areas: (1) vocational rehabilitation services, (2) services for older individuals, (3) services for children, and (4) the Business Enterprise Program.

Vocational Rehabilitation Program

FFY 15-16:

Consumers served: 4,777

Consumers placed in employment: 418

The Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) Program offers guidance and counseling to assist legally blind consumers in finding or retaining employment. Vocational rehabilitation counselors (VRCs) work with each consumer to develop an Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE). The IPE serves as a road map to guide the consumer toward his/her employment goals. Goals vary, and include: preparing for and finding a job, continuing at a current workplace, or using assistive technology for job placement. In addition to counseling and guidance, the VR Program may offer services or access to services, including the following:

- Assessments to determine service needs
- Deaf-blind services
- Maintenance, transportation, interpreter services, and reader services
- Vocational assessment
- Vocational training
- Job training
- Mobility training (which enables consumers to travel safely and efficiently)
- Instruction in activities of daily life
- Low vision exams and devices
- Braille instruction
- Assistive technology
- Job retention services for workers experiencing vision loss
Services for Older Blind Individuals

FFY 15-16

Older individuals served: 3,789

The goal of this program is to make a comprehensive package of rehabilitation services available to older individuals who are legally blind and are not seeking paid employment. This program includes evaluation of an individual's service needs within the framework of personal goals, abilities, and resources, and the provision of appropriate types and amounts of services to promote individual achievement of rehabilitation goals. It is NYSCB’s intent that individuals identified and served will achieve the highest level of confidence, self-sufficiency, and independence allowed by each individual’s life circumstances and interests, in accordance with their established goals and NYSCB’s policy. NYSCB measures each person’s success by determining whether they accomplished the goals identified in their Individualized Service Plans (ISP) or IPE.

Children’s Program

FFY 15-16

Children served: 1,756

NYSCB provides rehabilitation services to children who are legally blind and reside in New York State. Working with the family, a child’s consultant develops a plan tailored to the child’s needs. The plan may include services provided in the home, the community, or private rehabilitation agencies. Services provided through the Children’s Program include:

- Counseling and guidance to families
- Advocacy
- Educational consultation
- Vocational coordination
- Low vision services
- Rehabilitation teaching
- Orientation and mobility
- Social casework

Services are provided outside of school, either after school, on weekends, or during school vacations. NYSCB also provides some legally blind children with the opportunity to attend summer camps and year-round recreational programs they might not otherwise be able to attend without the support of NYSCB. The goal of the recreation programs is to provide legally-blind children with opportunities that encourage independence and increase self-confidence.

Business Enterprise Program

FFY 15-16: 69 Vendors employed with an average income of $41,835

The Business Enterprise Program (BEP) offers opportunities throughout the state for individuals who are blind to gain the training and skills necessary to independently manage one of several vending facilities located in federal and state office buildings. After completing an intensive training program, BEP managers become proficient in all aspects of retail management, including purchasing products, controlling inventory, marketing products, maintaining good customer relations, and keeping accurate records.
NYSCB’s BEP has three regional offices – New York City, Rensselaer, and Buffalo – that provide coverage for all the counties in the state. Each regional office is staffed by a district supervisor, business/food service specialist, and a support staff person. The business/food service specialists work directly with the licensed program members to assist them in operating their own businesses.
Division of Child Care Services

OCFS, through the Division of Child Care Services (DCCS), licenses, registers, inspects, supervises, and enforces regulations for child care programs, and provides training and technical assistance to child care providers through a contract managed by the Bureau of Training and Development. DCCS is also responsible for the development, implementation, and monitoring of contracts with the following: Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies, Legally-Exempt Enrollment Agencies and Advantage After-School Programs. Additionally, DCCS has oversight responsibilities for the provision of child care subsidies funded under the New York State Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) for approximately 192,000 children annually, and for the enrollment and monitoring of nearly 27,000 legally-exempt child care providers annually. DCCS investigates citizens and legislative complaints regarding the provision of local services, child care inspections, local districts of social services (LDSSs), and community-based organizations to improve the delivery of service and care. DCCS also works to develop new programs and methods of service provision for children, youth, and child care providers that promote positive child development and improve the quality of child care services.

Number of Regulated Child Care Providers in New York State
(Includes New York City Day Care Centers not regulated by OCFS)

- 4,282 day care centers with a capacity for 305,741 children
- 4,340 family day care homes with a capacity for 33,640 children
- 8,070 group family day care homes with a capacity for 123,178 children
- 2,722 school-age child care programs with a capacity for 299,388 children

Total: 19,414 regulated providers with a capacity for 761,947 children

Child Care Definitions

Day Care Center (DCC) - Provides care to an enrolled group of seven or more children at a facility other than a personal residence for three or more hours a day on a regular basis. Maximum capacity is driven by square footage allowance.

Family Day Care Home (FDC) - Provides care to more than two non-relative children in a residence for three or more hours a day on a regular basis. Maximum capacity is eight children, generally with one caregiver.
Group Family Day Care Home (GFDC) - Provides care to more than two non-relative children in a residence for three or more hours a day on a regular basis. Maximum capacity is 16 children, generally with two caregivers.

School-Age Child Care (SACC) - Provides child care to an enrolled group of seven or more children in a non-residence facility outside normal school hours. Maximum capacity is driven by square footage allowance.

Subsidized Child Care in New York State

The New York State Child Care Subsidy Program is administered by social services districts and overseen by DCSS. Approximately 192,000 children in 120,000 families received child care subsidies in Federal Fiscal Year (FFY) 2016.

Of these:
- 36 percent were cared for in DCCs or SACCs
- 35 percent were cared for in FDCs or GFDCs
- 29 percent were cared for in legally-exempt (LE) settings, which are almost exclusively home-based

Funding for Child Care Subsidies

In SFY 2016-17, OCFS allocated $805.9 million to LDSSs through the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) program. Additional child care subsidy funds for income-eligible families in SFY 2015-16 were made available through Memoranda of Understanding with SUNY ($2.213 million) and CUNY ($2.161 million).

Facilitated enrollment projects funded in SFY 2016-17 for child care subsidies to families eligible up to 275 percent of poverty totaled $10.412 million.
Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies

OCFS provides funding and supervision to support and enhance the child care services delivered by Child Care Resource and Referral (CCR&R) agencies for children and families throughout New York State as specified in SSL Article 6, Title 5-B, Sections 410-p through 410-t. CCR&R agencies provide multiple services to the child care community. CCR&Rs collect and maintain up-to-date information about all types of legal child care programs in their areas. Counselors can provide parents with information about various types of child care programs, costs, financial assistance, and guidelines for selecting child care.

In FFY 2016, OCFS entered contracts worth $19.7 million with 31 CCR&Rs. Seven infant/toddler lead agencies received a total of $1.1 million in FFY 2016.

Union Contracts

Family-based child care providers are represented by one of two unions: the United Federation of Teachers (UFT) if they are in New York City and the Civil Service Employees Association (CSEA) for providers in the rest of the state. Funds are made available to these unions to support the improvement of program quality, both through quality grants (individual grants that go directly to providers to help them pay for things such as health and safety items; developmentally-appropriate books; toys and other materials for the children they serve; First Aid/CPR training expenses; general supplies; and children’s furnishings, such as cribs, mats, changing tables, etc.) and funds to support professional development and training. In SFY 2016-17, CSEA received $4.108 million for Quality Grants and $2.195 million for Professional Development. UFT received $2.5 million for Quality Grants and $5 million for Professional Development.

Advantage After-School Program

In SFY 2016-17, $22.3 million in funds supported 177 Advantage After-School Program sites (through 137 contracts) that served approximately 17,000 children and youth.
Division of Child Welfare and Community Services

New York State is among nine states that have a child welfare system that is state-supervised and locally administered. Within OCFS, the Division of Child Welfare and Community Services (CWCS) is responsible for statewide program monitoring and oversight for services on behalf of families, children, youth, and at-risk adults. The primary program areas it oversees are child protective and preventive services, foster care and adoption, adult protective services, residential and non-residential services for victims of domestic violence, Native American services, youth development activities, kinship care and post-adoption services and Healthy Families New York.

Guided by state and federal laws and regulations within each of the program areas, CWCS’s mandate includes supervision, monitoring, and providing technical assistance for the implementation of program activities to 58 LDSSs, the St. Regis Mohawk Tribe, and 106 voluntary agency providers.

Specific responsibilities include the following:

- Oversight of LDSS’s child protective, foster care, adoption, and preventive services programs that serve children and families
- Operation of the Statewide Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment (SCR) 24 hours a day, seven days a week
- Clearance checks of individuals using the child abuse and maltreatment database
- Operation of the New York State Adoption Service
- Operation of the Native American Services program
- Oversight of the Adult Protective Services program
- Certifying, licensing, inspecting, and enforcing regulations for certain residential facilities and non-residential programs. These include foster care agencies, family-type homes for adults, domestic violence shelters, and runaway and homeless youth programs
- Investigation of complaints regarding significant incidents and alleged abuse and maltreatment within licensed residential facilities for children and family-type homes for adults
- Investigation of citizen and legislative complaints with respect to the provision of local services
- Development and implementation of new programs/services and methods of service delivery for adults, children, youth, and families that address social and demographic trends and promote positive human development
- Provision of training and technical assistance to LDSSs and voluntary agencies to improve the delivery of services and care
- Oversight and monitoring of the Bridges to Health Waiver program (B2H) as well as guidance and technical support to all 21 Health Care Integration Agencies (HCIAs) and 58 LDSSs
- Operation of the Human Services Call Center

Office of Regional Operations and Practice Improvement
This office is responsible for monitoring, oversight and technical assistance to local departments of social services and voluntary agencies. It collaborates with other offices to develop and support strategies to improve the performance of LDSSs and voluntary agencies in complying with regulations and in achieving federally-established outcome and performance standards.
Bureau of Regional Operations
This bureau maintains six regional offices to provide direct oversight, monitoring, and technical assistance to the counties and agencies throughout the state. These offices support child welfare practice initiatives and follow up on complaints and inquiries by families. The six regional offices are; Albany Regional Office (ARO), Buffalo Regional Office (BRO), New York City Regional Office (NYCRO), Rochester Regional Office (RRO), Spring Valley Regional Office (SVRO) and Syracuse Regional Office (SRO).

Bureau of Adult Services
This bureau is responsible for the oversight of Adult Protective Services and other adult services provided through the LDSSs and of local activities related to the operation of family-type homes for adults.

- Adult Protective Services (APS)
  Services are available to anyone age 18 or older who has a mental or physical impairment; is at risk of abuse, neglect, or financial exploitation; and has no one else available to assist responsibly. APS clients include the vulnerable elderly, the mentally ill, the developmentally disabled, and the abused and exploited. APS investigates referrals of suspected physical, sexual or emotional abuse, financial exploitation, active and passive neglect, and self-neglect. Approximately 60 percent of APS cases involve persons age 60 and older, and more than 70 percent of all APS risks reported are for “self-neglect.” Services provided by APS include investigating and assessing the adult’s needs and risk of harm; coordination with law enforcement and other agencies; counseling; advocacy and case management; applying for benefits and coordinating the delivery of services; finding alternative living arrangements; financial management services; homemaker and housekeeper chore services; crisis interventions; and long-term legal interventions.

- Family-Type Homes for Adults (FTHA)
  FTHAs are a type of adult care facility in which an operator provides personal care and/or supervision services for four or fewer unrelated adults. Residents of FTHAs must be ambulatory, must not require continual medical or nursing care, and must not suffer from unstable medical conditions that require continuous skilled monitoring. FTHAs are licensed by OCFS and supervised by LDSSs. The Bureau of Adult Services oversees the LDSSs, investigates complaints, and conducts enforcement activities. There are currently 328 licensed FTHA operators in New York State with a capacity of 1,084 residents.

Bureau of Strategic Partnerships and Collaboration (SPC)
The SPC unit is responsible for providing leadership in addressing racial disparities in out-of-home placement for children of color within the child welfare system and in supporting efforts to examine and reduce racial and ethnic disparities in the juvenile justice system in collaboration with the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. These efforts include developing relationships with national organizations and consultants, and participating in organizations and alliances dedicated to similar goals. Developing and providing training and learning opportunities for staff are a central part of the work. Requesting and using data to inform the efforts of more than 30 counties with high or extreme rates of out-of-home placements for children of color is also central to the work.

Bureau of Native American Services
The Bureau of Native American Services is responsible for responding to the needs of Indian tribes and nations and their members, both on reservations and in the state’s other communities. The federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 resulted in an expansion of the agency’s consulting and training role with respect to the delivery of services to Native American children. Native American Services is the vital link to the seven federally-recognized and two state-recognized tribes in New York State. This office is empowered to deal directly with tribal nations in upholding New York State’s treaty obligations and making tribal annuity payments. Additionally, Native American Services staff oversee the daily operational requirements of the Tonawanda Indian Community House. OCFS is one of three state agencies (including the Department of Education and the Department of Health) charged with specific obligations to New York’s Native American population.

Bureau of Monitoring and Quality Assurance
The Monitoring Unit ensures that the delivery of child welfare services by LDSSs complies with state and federal laws, regulations and best practice standards. In cooperation with the CWCS regional offices, the bureau develops monitoring strategies and tools, conducts case reviews and tracks the development and implementation of corrective action plans.

Bureau of Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI)/Data
The bureau works to provide a continuous quality improvement framework to the work conducted throughout the Division of Child Welfare and Community Services. The CQI/Data Bureau builds data inquiry skills throughout all CWCS offices, local departments of social services, and voluntary agencies. The bureau supports county the Child and Family Services Planning process that includes key CQI principles, such as data and evidence.

Office of Performance Improvement
This office provides training and technical assistance to LDSSs and voluntary agencies to help them effectively implement new programs and improve practice. Current responsibilities include providing support to counties in implementing and sustaining the Family Assessment Response (FAR) child protective practice and the KEYS model of supervision. This bureau oversees the CWCS training plan and local Child Fatality Review Teams. The review of child fatality investigations and writing the child fatality reports was recently added to its portfolio.

- Family Assessment Response (FAR)
  FAR is an alternative family-led child protective response to achieve safety through family engagement and collaborative partnerships. There are currently 23 counties participating in FAR. OCFS and its training partners offer support, training, coaching and ongoing data analysis. Impact evaluations have shown that FAR effectively reduced further involvement in the child welfare system.

- Keys to Excellence in Your Supervision (KEYS)
The KEYS Model of Supervision supports LDSS supervisors to administer the work of the agency while effectively developing and supporting staff to accomplish the agency’s mission. With KEYS, the agency supports supervision through clear and consistent supervision, an organizational culture that supports career-long learning, pro-active communication, and accountability for results.

  OCFS works with training vendors to offer training, coaching and on-site assistance to create local implementation teams and effective supervisory and organizational practices. Through our training partner, several supervisory level trainings are offered to new and experienced supervisors.
• Child Fatality Review Unit
  As required by law, OCFS reviews local districts’ investigations of the fatalities of children brought to the attention of the child welfare system. Specifically, OCFS examines deaths that: 1) are reported to the Statewide Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment and are allegedly caused by abuse or maltreatment by a parent or caregiver; 2) occur while a child is in foster care or receiving protective or preventive services; or 3) occur while a child is under the supervision of a local department of social services. OCFS issues a separate report on approximately 200 child fatalities per year. OCFS collects information regarding the fatalities, compiles annual statistics and produces a cumulative annual report summarizing its data, findings and recommendations.

• Child Fatality Review Teams (CFRTs)
  CFRTs use a multidisciplinary approach to identifying the cause and manner of death to help determine the most common reasons why otherwise healthy children die in New York State. There are 19 CFRTs across the state that include a cross-system representation of required members who conduct in-depth examinations of child fatalities, identify local trends and develop prevention strategies.

Office of Youth and Young Adult Services

Bureau of Youth Development/Crossover Initiatives

This bureau designs, coordinates and promotes innovative strategies to advance youth development. These strategies cut across all disciplines at the state and local levels. The goal is for all New York State youth to reach their full potential and become healthy, productive adults. This is accomplished through support and funding to programs and initiatives that enable youth to build on their strengths, and provide opportunities for youth to gain important life skills and core competencies that allow them to have meaningful roles in their communities.

Crossover Initiatives is a multi-agency, cross-system approach aimed at addressing the needs of youth involved in both child welfare and juvenile justice systems. Its goal is to reduce a young person’s further involvement in the juvenile justice system through information exchange, coordination and collaboration between child welfare and juvenile justice professionals. In 2016, $15,569,700 was provided to municipal youth bureaus statewide for youth development programs to prevent youth from involvement in the juvenile justice system, child welfare system, or being chronically dependent on other human services systems. Notice of Adoption for the youth development program regulations appeared in the State Register on August 18, 2016. OCFS approved every county’s and New York City’s youth development services plan for youth up to age 21 in local areas. Counties reported on performance outcomes to the Bureau of Youth Development for youth development programs funded by municipal youth bureaus. Web-based statewide and regional scorecards were developed for measuring and reporting performance.

Bureau of Vulnerable Populations

This bureau aims to address the needs and challenges of youth and young adults that are vulnerable to specific risks. One specific population is adolescents in care. By strengthening services and providing skills-based training and leadership development opportunities, the youth are assisted in making a successful transition to adulthood while giving them a voice. The aim is to also provide adults that work with youth in care with the training, knowledge, support and job aids necessary to effectively assist the youth in their care. A second population served in this bureau is children and youth trafficked for sex and/or labor. The goal is to enable New York’s child welfare and allied youth service systems to screen, identify, and respond effectively to the needs of children and youth trafficked for sex and/or labor and improve system response. The third population served is runaway and homeless youth. The goal is to develop a system of programs and services to meet the needs of runaway and homeless youth. This includes services offered through crisis shelter programs and transitional independent living support programs, as well as non-residential services offered through such programs that address the needs through hotlines, street outreach programs, and case management.

Runaway and Homeless Youth Programs

OCFS oversees and funds approved runaway and transitional independent living support programs under the Runaway and Homeless Youth Act (RHYA). In 2016, 45 agencies statewide operated 121 certified runaway and homeless youth programs; a total of 1,148 beds. The final appropriation for RHY services is $4,484,000 for 2017. This funding is administered through the resource allocation process through the county youth bureaus.

Last year, the Governor signed into law the first significant change to New York State’s Runaway and Homeless Youth Act since its inception by allowing counties to:

- Increase the length of stay for runaway youth in crisis programs to 120 days, up from 30 days
- Extend the maximum length of stay in a residential transitional independent living support program from 18 to 24 months
- Serve 21- to 24-year-olds in residential programs for runaway and homeless youth. By raising the age of Runaway and Homeless Youth services, New York State has opened the door for young people to have a safe place to turn in their darkest and most challenging situations
- Require runaway and homeless youth programs to help young people who have aged out or signed out of foster care to re-enter foster care if they are eligible and wish to do so

OCFS promulgated regulations which went into effect January 1 of this year on these and some other important issues.

Approved runaway programs serve runaway youth under age 18 who are absent from their legal residences without the consent of their parents, legal guardians or custodians. They provide short-term crisis shelter and support services to runaway youth for arrangements to be made to return the youth home where possible, or to move the youth to an alternative residential placement when necessary. Long-term transitional independent living support programs are for older homeless youth who lack a place of shelter where supervision and care are available. Programs serve young people who become homeless because of a wide range of circumstances and either cannot return home or do not have a home. The goal for young people in these programs is to develop skills to live independently. Non-residential programs provide case management, crisis intervention, drop-in services, and street outreach among other services.
Human Trafficking and Safe Harbour: NY Program

OCFS continues to provide technical assistance to counties and programs on the recently-promulgated policy directive regarding the identification, reporting, and provision of services to youth identified as sex trafficked who are in the care, custody, or supervision of LDSSs. This policy was issued in accordance with the new federal law Preventing Sex Trafficking and Strengthening Families. In 2016, Safe Harbour: NY was funded with $3 million in the state budget to provide services to commercially sexually exploited youth.

Safe Harbour: NY's funding, which began in 2012, provides training, services, outreach, support, and advocacy to trafficked and at-risk youth in 27 jurisdictions, including New York City. An additional two counties were funded in 2016 to raise local awareness and provide training and service enhancement through local Youth Bureaus. Sixteen jurisdictions provided data about newly-identified child trafficking victims in 2016 (Albany, Broome, Dutchess, Erie, Monroe, Nassau, Niagara, Oneida, Onondaga, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk, Ulster, and Westchester counties and the St. Regis Mohawk Tribal Nation). Newly identified child victims included 207 youth who met the federal definition for child trafficking victim and an additional 1,150 youth were identified as being at high or medium risk of being trafficked. Labor trafficking cases were identified in nine of the 16 counties reporting data.

Close to Home Oversight and System Improvement

This office is responsible for monitoring and providing technical assistance to the Close to Home providers of a continuum of services in New York City. These services consist of residential service programs, non-secure placement (NSP), limited-secure placement (LSP) and the Close to Home aftercare provider agencies, all of which are provided via contracts with voluntary agencies. In addition, Close to Home Oversight (CTHO) monitors and provides technical assistance to the New York City Administration for Children’s Services (ACS). CTHO monitors these Close to Home agencies for compliance with OCFS regulations and best practices in the areas of safety, permanency, and well-being. At a minimum, CTHO conducts a monthly site visit. These visits may include interviews of youth, inspection of the residences, log reviews, child-specific incidents and concerns, and review of human resources files. CTHO staff follow up on significant incidents registered by the Justice Center and monitor the Corrective Action Plans related to abuse and neglect allegations. Close to Home services are provided to youth in New York City who have been adjudicated as delinquent and whom judges have ordered to be placed in NSP or LSP facilities. The program goal is to provide services--including education--to the young people in a setting close to their families, in or near their communities, and to have the youth successfully transition back home as productive, contributing members of society. Seven agencies contract with ACS to provide Close to Home NSP residential services, operating 24 residential programs. Three agencies provide Close to Home LSP residential services operating four residential programs. Four agencies provide contracted aftercare services.

Statewide Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment

Mandated reporters and members of the public who suspect that a child is abused or maltreated can call the Statewide Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment (SCR) toll-free hotline 24 hours a day, seven days a week at 1-800-342-3720. The state-operated SCR takes the initial call, determines if there is reasonable cause to suspect abuse or maltreatment, and relays the information to the appropriate LDSS to conduct the investigation and make a finding. Calls are answered by a trained staff of more than 165 child protective specialists whose qualifications include various combinations of education and direct experience in the provision of child protective services (CPS) or child welfare services. Child protective specialists receive a minimum of eight weeks of intensive in-house training, including a minimum of two weeks of on-the-job training, before beginning their shift assignments on the hotline. A staff of 32 supervisors support decision-making and supervisory consultation with callers.

SCR Procedures

- Based on the information provided by a caller, if there is reasonable cause to suspect that a child has been abused or maltreated, a report is taken and submitted to the CPS unit in the LDSS where the child resides.
- LDSSs must maintain 24-hour coverage via the use of on-call rosters to respond to cases of imminent danger.
- The parents and anyone else who may have had a role in the suspected abuse or maltreatment are searched against the SCR database to determine if there is any history of abuse or maltreatment. This information is also provided to the local CPS.
- The LDSS has 60 days to determine if a report is “indicated” or “unfounded” based on a standard of “some credible evidence.” Information regarding crimes or immediate threats to a child’s health and safety by persons not defined as legally responsible are immediately referred to law enforcement by the SCR.
- During 2016, the SCR hotline received 293,414 calls, which resulted in 189,636 reports being electronically transmitted to LDSSs for further action. The SCR handled 294,538 database check clearance requests, 7,592 administrative review requests, and received 13,252 requests for information.

Health and Human Services Call Center (HSCC)

The HSCC is a customer-focused operation committed to providing consistent and high-quality services to all statewide callers. To achieve this goal, HSCC business analysts work with program units within each agency to define calls for transition to the HSCC and to build a robust statewide knowledge base with clear and consistent content. The relationship with the agencies' program units continues after the transition with weekly, monthly and quarterly reports and status update meetings.

The HSCC provides detailed reports on call metrics including:

- call volume
- length of calls
- average wait times
- the most frequently asked questions
- the number of callers needing translation services

The HSCC has outperformed its goal of answering 85 percent of all calls within five minutes. Responses from the customer agencies confirm that the HSCC provides excellent service while allowing agency staff to focus on their core mission. For the first time, agencies have detailed understanding of their callers' needs, including a full accounting of the time required to handle calls, and the most frequently asked question by time period. This customer-focused approach has proven to be successful.
Office of Prevention, Permanency and Program Support
This office is responsible for the Bureau of Program and Community Development, Bureau of Permanency Services, and the Bureau of Waiver Management.

Bureau of Program and Community Development
The bureau oversees approximately 200 community-based organizations and related prevention initiatives that support local and state child welfare priorities as described below:

• Healthy Families New York (HFNY) Home Visiting Program
  HFNY is an evidence-based child abuse and maltreatment prevention program offering home visiting services to expectant parents and new families, beginning weekly and decreasing over time until the child starts school. Proven results include: reduction in low birth weight, improvements in school readiness, improved parenting skills, and reduction in child abuse/maltreatment. HFNY is accredited by Healthy Families America, an initiative of Prevent Child Abuse America. Nine of the 38 programs are also supported with federal Maternal, Infant and Early Childhood Home Visiting (MIECHV) funds. Services are offered in 42 communities statewide. OCFS works closely with the New York State Department of Health on the implementation of the MIECHV initiative. HFNY subcontracts for statewide standardized core training and staff development, a management information system, and evaluation support. In 2016, 6112 families were enrolled in HFNY, receiving 81,419 home visits.

• Services for Victims of Domestic Violence
  OCFS regulates 62 residential shelters and DV programs, 27 residential sponsoring agencies with a total of 67 safe dwellings, two safe home networks and 82 non-residential programs for victims of domestic violence (DV) and administers the federal Family Violence Prevention and Services Act (FVPSA) and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) funds to all approved programs. There are 18 Child Protective Services/Domestic Violence (CPS/DV) collaboration projects with an out-stationed DV advocate at the local CPS office. The Center for Human Services Research evaluation report of the CPS/DV projects indicates improvements in case practice and increased referrals to DV services. All licensed and approved DV programs are required to enter necessary data into the DV information system, which provides data for state and federally legislated annual reports. OCFS provides extensive guidance, documents, and training for child welfare workers regarding the issues and dynamics of DV.

• William B. Hoyt Memorial Children and Family Trust Fund
  Trust Fund public education efforts include Safe Babies New York, formerly known as the New York State Shaken Baby Prevention Project. This statewide program has documented a sustained 50 percent decrease in abusive head trauma in the counties where it has been piloted. In 2013, due to the increasing number of child fatalities attributed to unsafe sleeping practices, the program expanded education to all parents of newborns, with information about safe sleeping practices and coping with crying. Hospitals distribute A Guide for Parents to support these strategies for keeping children safe. Trust Fund staff also coordinate the distribution of child safety materials. These materials include tip sheets, brochures, DVDs, magnets and other items with information about safe sleep environments, coping with an infant crying, and additional topics. In 2016, 67,101 publications and videos were provided, reaching families throughout New York State.
• Public-Private Partnership
  The Public-Private Partnership (PPP) initiative is designed to increase services for at-risk children and youth to prevent involvement with the child welfare or juvenile justice systems and/or expedite their return home. A total of $3.4 million is included in the 2017-2018 state budget for this initiative, which supports 17 programs. Communities are required to invest a 35 percent private match to support state funds for this initiative. Current PPP programs include Parent-Child home visiting programs, services to support at-risk children and families in day care settings, trauma informed services and professional development to teachers, administrators and staff in at-risk schools.

• Multi-Disciplinary Teams/Child Advocacy Centers
  OCFS supports 52 approved Multi-Disciplinary Teams (MDTs) and Child Advocacy Centers (CACs) serving 52 counties. In addition, OCFS supports a CAC on the St. Regis tribal nation. MDTs and CACs serve to minimize trauma to child victims through a coordinated, comprehensive, and multi-disciplinary response in cases of child sexual and severe physical abuse that supports a child’s well-being and aids in criminal prosecution. MDTs include, but are not limited to, child protective services, law enforcement, medical professionals, victim advocacy, mental health, and other disciplines as necessary. MDTs coordinate the handling of cases from the initial report through investigation, treatment of victim(s), and the criminal prosecution of the offender(s). MDTs can coordinate prompt treatment referrals and improve evidence collection necessary to hold offenders accountable for their actions. CACs are child-friendly facilities within the community where children can feel safe and at ease while being interviewed by a member of the MDT. The sites are where ongoing case reviews are conducted and where medical exams and counseling for victims and their non-offending family members may be completed.

Bureau of Waiver Management
The Bureau of Waiver Management (BWM) and regional office Quality Management Specialist (QMS) Bridges to Health (B2H) staff provide oversight, monitoring, guidance, and technical support to all 21 Health Care Integration Agencies (HCIAs) and 58 LDSSs.

• Bridges to Health (B2H) Waiver Program
  Bridges to Health (B2H) is a home and community-based Medicaid waiver program designed to provide services to children in foster care who have significant mental health, developmental and/or medical needs to help them live in a home or community-based setting. B2H helps improve the health and well-being of these children and helps to avoid, delay or prevent medical institutional care.

In 2016, 1,099 children were newly enrolled in the B2H program with a total of 4,046 children served by B2H during the year. Since the inception of the program in 2008, at least 2,436 children served by the B2H program were discharged from foster care to a permanent home. During 2016, at least 199 of the children enrolled in the B2H program reached their permanency goal of adoption.

BWM and QMS B2H staff conduct Annual Administrative Reviews at each of the 21 HCIAs across New York State. The Annual Administrative Reviews consist of thorough assessments of agency policies and protocols, examination of active and discharged case records, critical incident reports, family complaints/grievances, family satisfaction, network provider contracts (subcontractors), staff qualifications, staff background checks, staff training, and the provision of B2H waiver services.

During 2016, BWM staff monitored the implementation and administration of the Child and Adolescent Needs and Strengths (CANS) functional assessment instrument by sponsoring in-person certification training for staff who administer the CANS and reviewing 980 randomly-selected personnel records at each of the 21 HCIAs to verify that B2H service providers had the required qualifications, background checks, and training. BWM and QMS B2H staff completed 447 case record reviews to verify that services are child focused, trauma informed, and outcome based and that B2H providers appropriately assessed the strengths and needs of each child and family using the CANS-NY assessment tool.

BWM and QMS B2H staff assessed and re-evaluated the training needs of the B2H provider community and made appropriate adjustments to training opportunities based on those needs. In 2016, through a contract with Sidney Albert Training and Research Institute, BWM provided in-classroom training to 3,414 attendees and online-module training to 3,988 participants.

Bureau of Permanency Services
The Bureau of Permanency Services includes the New York State Adoption Service (NYSAS) and oversees statewide permanency services, including the Kinship Guardianship Assistance Program (KinGAP), kinship, adoption and post-adoption programs. NYSAS is the state entity responsible for the coordination and delivery of federal and state-mandated adoption services to New York State children in need of adoptive families. In compliance with these mandates, the Bureau of Permanency Services provides services to LDSSs and voluntary authorized agencies, and closely collaborates with OCFS regional offices, particularly regional permanency specialists in the provision of adoption and other permanency related services. Additionally, the bureau is involved in policy formulation, program development, and training activities related to the recruitment and retention of resource families critical to successful permanency outcomes for New York State’s waiting children. The bureau is responsible for the following:

- Child Photolisting administers the process for the photolisting of foster children freed for adoption in the New York State Adoption Album
- Family Adoption Registry and Family Photolisting administers the process for registering families interested in adopting foster children in the New York State Family Adoption Registry and the photolisting of families on the state’s internal New York State Adoption Album
- Adoption Subsidy reviews adoption subsidy requests for maintenance and medical coverage based on the special needs of children available for adoption
- Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children (ICPC) processes requests for the placement of children in and out of New York State, adhering to safety and service need standards established by ICPC
- Interstate Compact on Adoption and Medical Assistance processes requests for the continuation of Medicaid for children in receipt of adoption assistance that are moving into or out of New York State
- Putative Father Registry maintains a registry of putative fathers of children born out-of-wedlock, and responds to agency and court inquiries regarding the registration of putative fathers
- Parent and Kin Connection Help Line provides information and referral assistance on adoption, foster care, and other support services to parents and professionals
• Approval of Adoption Agencies reviews applications and renewals of not-for-profit agencies authorized to place children for adoption with New York State families.

• TANF Post-Adoption Services provides oversight and technical assistance to post-adoption programs funded by OCFS for TANF-eligible families.

• Post Adoption and Post Legal Guardianship Services provides oversight and technical assistance to regional permanency resource centers that provide these services to families without regard to income.

• Kinship Care Services provides oversight and technical assistance to kinship programs funded by OCFS.

• Kinship Guardianship Assistance Program (KinGAP) provides technical assistance to LDSSs on the KinGAP program.

Kinship Program

The kinship caregiver programs provide support services to kinship caregivers and children in informal and custodial relationships. Additionally, the New York State Kinship Navigator is a statewide program specifically designed to provide information and resources to kinship caregivers statewide. OCFS provides kinship resources and KinGAP resources on its website. In 2016, a new plain language publication was published titled, “Know Your Options: Kin Caring for Children,” to introduce options for relative placement when a child cannot live safely with their parents.

Title IV-E Waiver Demonstration Project for Foster Care

OCFS applied for the Title IV-E waiver demonstration project, which was approved by the federal Office of the Administration for Children and Families in 2013. The state operates a demonstration project which is being implemented in New York City with the Administration for Children’s Services (ACS). The demonstration’s target population includes all Title IV-E eligible and non-eligible children and youth 0-21 years of age currently in an out-of-home placement in regular family foster care or at home receiving post-reunification aftercare services from provider agencies contracted with ACS. Eligible children also include those newly admitted children in family foster care who are not in specialized settings, such as residential and specialized foster boarding home settings or specialized medical foster care. Additionally, each child is screened using the child and adolescent needs and strengths (CANS) functional assessment tool with a component for assessing trauma. Evidence-based interventions that are trauma-informed are being implemented. The current waiver expires on September 30, 2018. OCFS will request a one-year extension from the federal Administration for Children and Families.

*Includes "Attained Adulthood" and "Released to Responsibility"
Division of Juvenile Justice and Opportunities for Youth

The Division of Juvenile Justice and Opportunities for Youth (DJJOY) is responsible for supervision and treatment of youth placed in OCFS custody by the courts, from intake through aftercare. OCFS serves male and female youth from the ages of 11 up to 21 who are remanded into the care and custody of OCFS as juvenile delinquents (JDs) by the family courts or committed as juvenile offenders (JOs) by the criminal courts. Generally, youth placed with OCFS present serious and complex issues, many of which compromise their own personal well-being and public safety, and many of the youth have extensive histories of prior placements. DJJOY supports and monitors facility-based operations and programs, community services and a range of community-based programs. DJJOY has also adopted a trauma responsive system of care called the New York Model.

Residential Care System
In 2016, the DJJOY residential care system consisted of 11 facilities and one reception center for both boys and girls. There are four secure facilities, five limited secure facilities, and two non-secure facilities. All facilities are accredited by the American Correctional Association (ACA) and all facilities have achieved full compliance under the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA). The following services are provided to youth in DJJOY care: discrete units for youth with mental health issues; substance abuse and sexually-harmful behavior; individual and group counseling; medical and dental services; education, vocational/employment, recreational, and ministerial services.

- Reception Center: Prior to being assigned to a residential facility, JDs go to the reception center, which provides a structured, 14-day program to orient them to facility rules and behavior expectations. They also receive medical, educational, psychological, and mental health assessments to determine their service needs and to identify the appropriate facility for placement.

- Secure Residential Facilities: The most controlled and restrictive of the residential programs, secure facilities provide intensive programming for youth requiring this type of environment. Secure facilities have virtually all program services provided on the premises. Secure facilities are surrounded by security fencing, facility access is strictly controlled, and individual resident rooms are locked at night. The majority of youth in secure facilities are sentenced as JOs or juvenile offender/youthful offenders (JO/YOs) by the criminal courts. Certain youth may be placed in secure facilities as JDs where the Family Court has authorized secure placement within 60 days of custody admission or when the youth has been moved up from a limited secure facility for violent behavior.

- Limited Secure Residential Facilities: This is a restrictive service setting used for certain youth adjudicated as JDs. Limited secure facilities may also be used for JDs previously placed in secure facilities as a first step in their transition back to the community. Most limited secure facilities have access to all services, the majority of which are provided on the premises.

- Non-Secure Residential Facilities: This level of placement is for those youth adjudicated as JDs who require removal from the community but do not require the more restrictive setting. OCFS also contracts with authorized agencies to provide residential care to certain JDs.
Community Services
DJJOY has 12 Community Multi-Services Offices (CMSOs) and two satellite offices. CMSOs provide support to the family while the youth is in residential placement and when the youth is transitioned to community supervision. A regionally-located Community Service Team (CST) works with the youth and family from day one of placement, in preparation for re-entry by employing targeted evidence-based strategies related to education, school placement, vocational and employment opportunities, mental health and substance abuse counseling, and recreational programs.

Detention Services
DJJOY is also responsible for certifying and monitoring detention programs (eight secure and 33 non-secure detention facilities) operated by counties and voluntary agencies throughout the state. These programs provide temporary care and supervision to youth ages seven through 21 during the court process, including pre-adjudication and disposition by Family Court and/or Criminal Court. Detention serves youth who face a petition in Family Court on a delinquency or PINS matter, or in the Criminal Court or Supreme Court on a criminal matter. For a delinquency or criminal matter, youth must have been under the age of 16 at the time of the alleged act or crime; youth up to the age of 18 with a PINS matter may only be held in non-secure detention.

OCFS is working with sister agencies, LDSSs, and key stakeholders to apply Annie E. Casey’s evidence-based model for detention reform: the Juvenile Detention Alternative Initiative (JDAI). JDAI is being applied statewide through the newly formed Partnership for Youth Justice to institutionalize the historic changes in detention utilization across the state and to continue to improve the system for court-involved youth.

Juvenile Justice Reform
Over the past 10 years, localities in New York State have taken increasing responsibility for their system-involved youth, and this effort has expanded to include residential placement services. Counties statewide are now working to rely less on the state and to provide effective residential services to low- and moderate-risk delinquent youth closer to their homes and communities.

DJJOY continues in its effort to reform its juvenile justice system, to serve more complex and difficult youth who have not experienced success in placements prior to coming to OCFS-operated facilities. Specifically, DJJOY is aggressively taking steps to reform services in education and vocation, workforce development, secure placement, transitional services, family engagement, youth development, detention, and the continued rollout of the comprehensive New York Model system of care. DJJOY has worked to help young people in residential placement to develop competencies and pro-social identities to support positive change and long-term success. As localities statewide utilize new residential programs, and as OCFS’s system of residential services becomes more targeted, there is an opportunity and an obligation to the youth, families, and communities to de-emphasize correctional hardware and practice.

DJJOY provides a range of core mandated and enhanced services to court-adjudicated youth and their families, which is delivered by trained professionals in both structured residential facilities and centrally located community sites.

On April 10, 2017, the Raise the Age (RTA) legislation was enacted (Part WWW of Chapter 59 of the Laws of 2017). The law makes substantive changes to the procedures used to process 16- and 17-year-olds in the criminal and youth justice systems. The youth facilities program footprint will change with the addition of residential beds to accommodate an older population of Juvenile Delinquents. DJJOY will work on new curricula to better meet the needs of the population.
Close to Home Initiative
In 2012, New York State enacted the Close to Home (CTH) legislation authorizing New York City to build a system of care and assume custody for certain New York City youth adjudicated as JDs. The CTH initiative is a critical piece of a transformation of juvenile justice in the State of New York from a centralized state-operated system to a locally controlled and operated system for those youth who can be safely maintained in their communities.

The New York City Administration for Children’s Services (ACS) was charged with creating a system of residential and community-based care within the five boroughs or in close proximity. CTH was rolled out in two phases of residential and community-based aftercare services: phase one focused on those youth designated as needing non-secure placement (NSP), and phase two focused on those youth designated as needing limited secure placement (LSP).

Phase one began in the fall of 2012. The NSP continuum includes programs in the five boroughs of New York and Westchester County. There are currently 25 programs run by seven voluntary agencies with a total of 220 beds. Program capacity is between six and 13 youth in any cottage or group home. In 2013, OCFS completed the transfer of youth from state custody into ACS custody; there were 238 youth transferred to New York City’s custody from OCFS facilities, voluntary agencies, or who were in the community receiving aftercare services.

Phase two began in the winter of 2015. Similar to the NSP continuum, LSP has five programs that are run by three voluntary agencies. The current bed capacity is 66, and programs house between six and 18 youth, depending upon the size of the facility.

As required in the legislation, OCFS created a robust oversight and technical assistance office, the Office of Close to Home Oversight and System Improvement (CTHO). This office reports to both the deputy commissioners for CWCS and DJJOY, and represents OCFS’s commitment to the least restrictive and most child- and family-centered approaches supported by evidence and data. The CTHO provides oversight on a system level, monitoring both ACS and the providers of care for adherence to regulatory requirements and provision of quality, timely, and effective services per the plan and best practices. In addition to monitoring, CTHO provides ACS and the voluntary agencies technical assistance on a wide range of issues.
