Report on the Supervision and Treatment Services
for Juveniles Program

Pursuant to Executive Law § 529-b(5)

Introduction

The supervision and treatment services for juvenile's program (STSJP) is a key component of Governor Cuomo's vision to transform New York State's youth justice system. STSJP provides funding to municipalities (counties and New York City) for programs and services that address the needs of youth who are either at risk or already involved in the justice system. STSJP-funded programs provide targeted interventions in settings that are family-focused, close to home and within the community being served. To allow municipalities to better align programs with need, OCFS expanded the continuum of services available through STSJP funding. STSJP services are divided into five (5) domains: Prevention, Early Intervention, Alternative to Detention, Alternative to Placement, and Aftercare/Reentry.

Although STSJP can be used to fund services across the continuum from Prevention to Reentry, emphasis is placed on funding programs that enable municipalities to serve youth in the least restrictive, appropriate setting possible while preserving public safety. STSJP provides fiscal incentives that encourage municipalities to develop and utilize community-based programs intended to divert youth from unnecessary placement in detention or residential care. This includes youth at risk of, alleged to be, or adjudicated as juvenile delinquents, persons in need of supervision; youth alleged to be or convicted as juvenile offenders, and youthful offenders.

A municipality wishing to provide services with STSJP funds must submit a plan to the New York State (NYS) Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS), detailing which supervision and treatment services will be provided. STSJP plans must include the name of each service and program proposed for funding, the communities and types of youth targeted for the service/program, a description of the projected number of youth to be served, and how the service/program will result in positive outcomes for youth. Municipalities are encouraged to use previous STSJP programming data and historical detention and placement data provided by OCFS to identify communities and subpopulations of youth to target for supervision and treatment services. Once a submitted plan is reviewed and approved, the municipality is eligible to receive 62 percent state reimbursement for the cost of allowable expenditures up to the municipality's capped STSJP allocation amount, set through an allocation methodology determined by OCFS. A municipality that wishes to provide additional STSJP services may choose to shift part of its available detention allocation to be used for STSJP. Shifted funds spent on STSJP-eligible expenditures receive 62 percent state reimbursement as opposed to the 49 percent state reimbursement for eligible detention services expenditures.

State Fiscal Year 2017-18

STSJP funding in the amount of $8,376,000 was appropriated for New York State Fiscal Year (SFY) 2017-2018, a further $500,000 allotment was divided equally between six (6) municipalities (Albany, Erie, Monroe, Onondaga, Nassau and Orange counties) to support coordination and implementation of the Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI). JDAI is a national, system-reform initiative coordinated by the Annie E. Casey Foundation, with a primary goal of reducing the unnecessary and inappropriate use of detention without compromising public safety.

During SFY 2017-2018, STSJP-funded programs were projected to serve 11,119 youth and families across 49 municipalities. Nine(9) municipalities did not submit 2017-18 STSJP plans (Chemung, Fulton, Greene, Montgomery, Ontario, Orleans, Sullivan, Wayne and Yates counties). Programs funded by STSJP are listed below, they are separated by municipality.

2017 – 2018 STSJP Data

In 2016, OCFS established a goal of standardizing how all municipalities utilizing STSJP funding would collect and submit youth and program level data, as well as, juvenile justice performance outcomes based upon NYS youth classifications. To accomplish this goal, during 2016, OCFS convened a committee comprised of state and local partners to determine the most feasible way to achieve this goal. OCFS developed a standardized STSJP data collection tool and disseminated that tool to municipalities. Municipalities began using the STSJP Monitoring tool in 2017. The STSJP Monitoring tool is divided into two (2) semi-annual reports. The decision to divide the report into two (2) parts was based upon a consideration that this would be a new process and having two (2) reporting periods would enable OCFS to monitor the new collection process more expeditiously and provide pertinent technical assistance as needed. If the data period was twelve (12) months, the belief was that providing real time assistance and correcting errors would be difficult and provide consternation for local partners. Once the municipalities become accustomed to collecting and submitting data in this format, if need be, OCFS will pivot to collection STSJP data on an annual basis. The data attached is a combination of two (2) semi-annual submissions for program year 2017-2018. The fact that the total of submissions by municipalities are different in each period can be attributed to the newness of the process, OCFS expects that as time progresses, all municipalities who use STSJP funding will submit this relevant and necessary STSJP data to OCFS.

⁶ "Attended at least 90% of all required program activities" is the only Program Involvement or Outcome item that includes an option for Not Applicable (N/A). All other items include three options: Yes, No and Information Not Collected. For the sake of simplicity, all Information Not Collected and N/A responses are included under Unknown for the purposes of this report.

⁷ Outcomes include events occurring during program involvement (i.e., between a youth's Program Start Date and Program End Date).

⁵ The STSJP County Summary Sheets include program-level data rather than youth-level data. If the locality funded multiple programs of the same type (e.g., Prevention) during the reporting period, Average Length of Stay was calculated by weighting the average reported by each program by the number of youth that program released.
